

Austin's Chained Dogs Need Your Help

The City of Austin has enacted a new law to protect dogs. Residents may no longer chain or tied up their dogs. Instead, they must now be kept either indoors or inside a secure fenced enclosure.

Austin's new law was passed to help promote more humane treatment of dogs, and to help prevent the aggressive behavior caused by long-term chaining and tethering.

Here's where you come in! Many of Austin's low-income families need a helping hand in order to comply with the new law. They want to keep their best friends--they just need a little help in purchasing supplies to build a fenced enclosure.

Please consider making a tax-deductible donation to the Dog Fence Fund. The Fund is hosted by the Austin Community Foundation, and provides vouchers to offset a portion of the cost of fencing materials for low-income residents.

Donations to the Dog Fence Fund can be made on-line by visiting:

www.chainfreeaustin.org

To donate by check, please make your check payable to the Austin Community Foundation, with Dog Fence Fund written in the memo line of the check. Donations via check should be mailed to this address:

Austin Community Foundation
P.O. Box 5159
Austin, TX 78763

Thank you for helping Austin's chained dogs!

CHAIN FREE AUSTIN

For the safety of children. For the humane treatment of dogs. For an end to the chaining of dogs.
www.chainfreeaustin.org

Austin's Chained Dogs Need Your Help

The City of Austin has enacted a new law to protect dogs. Residents may no longer chain or tied up their dogs. Instead, they must now be kept either indoors or inside a secure fenced enclosure.

Austin's new law was passed to help promote more humane treatment of dogs, and to help prevent the aggressive behavior caused by long-term chaining and tethering.

Here's where you come in! Many of Austin's low-income families need a helping hand in order to comply with the new law. They want to keep their best friends--they just need a little help in purchasing supplies to build a fenced enclosure.

Please consider making a tax-deductible donation to the Dog Fence Fund. The Fund is hosted by the Austin Community Foundation, and provides vouchers to offset a portion of the cost of fencing materials for low-income residents.

Donations to the Dog Fence Fund can be made on-line by visiting:

www.chainfreeaustin.org

To donate by check, please make your check payable to the Austin Community Foundation, with Dog Fence Fund written in the memo line of the check. Donations via check should be mailed to this address:

Austin Community Foundation
P.O. Box 5159
Austin, TX 78763

Thank you for helping Austin's chained dogs!

CHAIN FREE AUSTIN

For the safety of children. For the humane treatment of dogs. For an end to the chaining of dogs.
www.chainfreeaustin.org